

Request for I-20 and Declaration of Finances Form

2017-2018

Instructions.

Congratulations on your admission! International students who require an F-1 visa are required to demonstrate that they have sufficient funds to cover at least one full year of studies in the United States less any Norwich University scholarships. International students are required to declare the amount of and source of funds plus present a current and official bank statement that shows the funds' availability. Payment of tuition and fees are due upon arrival unless satisfactory arrangements have been made with the Bursar's Office.

Upon receipt of this form and the required supporting documents, the International Center will complete the Certificate of Eligibility Form I-20 and send it to you with your official admission documents. So that students have adequate time to complete the visa process and finalize their travel arrangements, we recommend completing this process no later than May 1, 2017.

Required documentation for all students include:

- Official bank statement dated no earlier than February 1, 2017.
- Passport ID page.

Students who are currently in the United States as an F-1 student should also submit the following:

- Copies of all I-20s previously issued to the student
- Copies of all F-1 visas previously used to enter the US

IMPORTANT: Bank statements are documents which demonstrate funds which are readily available. Documents that will not be accepted include:

- Tax documents which show income previously earned
- Letters from employers confirming annual salaries
- Documents which show investments which may fluctuate in value

For more information about the F-1 Visa process, go to <https://travel.state.gov/content/visas/en/study-exchange/student.html> or <http://international.norwich.edu/>

Cost of attendance for civilian and military students differ. Please complete the section that applies to you and submit with the required documentation to the International Center. To expedite the process, scanned and emailed documents are accepted and can be sent to international@norwich.edu.

Thank you for choosing Norwich University! We look forward to welcoming you this August.
